

Senior Women

We have included times for distances recorded for best performances by the National Union of Track Statisticians – 15 kms, 10 miles, half-marathon and marathon. Beyond these we show the ultra-distances in tens of miles up to 100 miles, tens of kilometres up to 50 kilometres, plus 100 kilometres and the three standard elapsed time runs of 6, 12 and 24 hours. Recorded elsewhere, but not published, are best times set at various other distances which are rarely run but which might crop up as intermediate times in major marathons.

<sup>3</sup> Based on her official 18 kms split of 1:02:03 in the Seville Half Marathon, Sarah Astin's time at 10 miles would have been about 55:29.

<sup>5</sup> Tish Jones would have been running faster than this as recorded at the 35 km point in her 2:31:00 marathon as would have been Birhan Dagne during her 2:34:45 marathon but no official 20-mile split time was taken.

<sup>6</sup> Louise Cooper has a time of 3:41:56 set at the intermediate 30-mile point in a 35-mile race, but Sam Amend's time of 3:30.56 for 50 kms or 31.0686 miles supersedes that.
